

Project Manager – Expression of Interest

Austraining International

Austraining International Pty Ltd is one of Australia's premier international management and consultancy organisations. With an established presence in Asia and the Pacific, the company has extensive experience in the management of national and international education, governance, health, volunteering, training and professional development programs that extend to both the private sector and development assistance agencies.

Due to an increase in current project work, Austraining International is seeking expressions of interest for Project Managers.

The role of a Project Manager is to:

- Manage services for the delivery of a number of specialised projects ensuring programs meets their milestones and performance targets against approved annual plans within contracted budget allocations
- Monitor and Evaluate programs to ensure quality M&E and reporting requirements are achieved
- Manage contractual relationships and negotiations with key stakeholders
- Manage operations to ensure service standards are met and maintained

Previous experience in project management, budgeting and financial management is essential, along with outstanding communication and organisational skills, and the ability to foster and maintain key stakeholder relationships.

As yet starting dates and positions have not been finalised, however if you wish to lodge an expression of interest, please go to www.austraining.com.au, click on the 'Work with Us' page, then 'Register your CV' tab.

To be considered for this role you must be an Australian Citizen or have permanent residential status.
